ISSEI EMERGING FROM YEARS OF GENTEEL RETIREMENT HAVE LAUGHED OFF THEIR YEARS

By LARRY TAJIRI
In the Pacific Citizen

Denver, Colo.

A few weeks ago my mother [illegible] through town, riding [illegible] in my brother Jim's [illegible]. After a one-night layover in Denver, the two were off for [illegible], with sandwiches tucked under my mother's feet and [illegible] luggage carefully stowed [illegible] in every spare square inch [illegible] cutdown automobile.

Now while it may not be polite [illegible] about a lady's age, it's no [illegible] that my mother is pushing [illegible] hard on the age of social [illegible]. And now here she was, [illegible] around the country in [illegible] seat of an auto bark for [illegible]. Twenty years ago we could hardly get her out of town unless [illegible] was a pretty good reason.

What we're leading up to is [illegible] a chronicle of her mad whirl from Chicago to California and back in less than two weeks, but the reawakening of the Issei, the resurgence of energy and [illegible] in almost every Issei one [illegible].

All of a sudden, the Issei, most of whom are in their sixties and [illegible] seventies and arrived at the age of [illegible] retirement, have burst their bonds, laughed off the [illegible] of age and emerged from years of quiet and passive existence. What has happened to them, these people whom we always remembered as gentle tired people tied to their homes, who stayed not much farther than down to the market each day, who were devout, careful, cautious and good, but who never got around much?

It seems as though you can hardly find one at home anymore. Nowadays they fly off to Japan at the drop of the fare. We know one sweet old couple, both in their seventies, who decided one day they should see the world, and they were off. A few months back a whole bevy of Issei women, hats perked jauntily on their greying heads, went on a tour to Washington, D.C. from Colorado. They had a schedule that kept them going from early morning till night—all the monuments, the museums, the government buildings, Mount Vernon. They were a group of citizens exploring a new world, and they did it with the gaiety of kids and yet the soberness of persons well aware of the demands and responsibilities of citizens. And when they got home to Colorado, there was hardly a tired one among the whole lot.

A few years back there were few Issei, especially among the women, who could speak English. But as soon as the bill granting them the right to citizenship was passed, they flooded into classes teaching Americanization and the English language so that they might pass their citizenship tests. Sometimes they were giggling schoolgirls laughing over their inability to pronounce their "s." And then again they were hard [illegible] to distinguish between the branches of government or to learn the fine points of the Constitution.

They have joined the JACL and their voting record at elec-

Japanese Costumes Arrive in Toronto For Exhibit at Museum

The Shizuo Nomura Collection [illegible] (Japanese costumes under [illegible]) to be displayed at the Royal Ontario Museum from Oct. [illegible] to Dec. 15 arrived in Toronto [illegible] week.

In the 17th and 18th centuries, [illegible] which most of these costumes [illegible], Tokyo life was gay. [illegible] had left the new Middle Class able to spend money. An isolationist policy [illegible] had cut Japan somewhat [illegible] Chinese influence and [illegible] Japanese designers [illegible] often took advantage of [illegible] as the period of the [illegible] Japanese fashion prints, of [illegible] museum has a collection.

Japan Beating Germany Out In Canadian Trade

COLOGNE, Germany.—German exporting firms doing business with Canada face steadily growing competition from Japanese exporters. German export of mechanical toys to Canada dropped from 25 per cent in 1954 to almost 18 per cent, while the Japanese export increased from 26 to 52 per cent in the same period. Prices for Japan semi-chanical toys are 30 to 50 per cent below the German ones. The Japanese exports of camera and optical goods are increasing. The Japanese also are reported dominating business in Canada with electrical sewing machines that cost about one third of the German prices.

Playboy Diet Members Blasted in Hawaii & Japan

TOKYO.—A Hawaii Times editorial criticizing behavior of the Japanese Diet members recently visiting Hawaii is now rocking Japan. Major Japanese newspapers, editorially agreeing with the Hawaiian paper, are blasting Japanese politicians who tour abroad on taxpayers' money. The newspaper Asahi, Japan's biggest, urged Dietmen to "stop useless trips abroad from now on." The Hawaii Times particularly attacked the Japanese Dietmen's playboy tendencies.

Refugee Farm Labor Program To Be Continued

LOS ANGELES.—An agreement was reached last week on the continuation of the temporary Japanese farm labor program which had been stalled after a contract-breaking incident in Delano involving 20 farm "quitters." Arrangements for the hiring of 375 more Japanese workers by California farmers have been completed, to make up the 500 men who were to be sent to the U.S. from Japan before Nov. 5 in the original agreement. Another 500 workers were to have been sent before the end of 1956, but no information has been available on these plans as yet. Four of the 20 contract-breakers returned to the Delano camp.

Supersonic Rockets Being Tested in Japan

TOKYO.—Japan for the first time tested supersonic rockets on Sept. 21 at Akita prefecture in northern Japan. The inter-ministerial rocket observation council set off rockets of the KAPPA-128S type during a 13-day period. The rockets are 88 pounds, seven feet long, having a speed of 2,000 miles per hour and designed to reach a height of 26,000 feet.

ORIENTAL BAZAAR HELD IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER.—An Oriental Bazaar held by the Hudson's Bay Co., was officially opened yesterday. Thousands of items from Japan, China, Bali, Phillipines, India, Thailand and Ceylon are on display, available to customers.

Main single item is a Mikado house, dismantled and brought over from Japan, said to be worth $50,000. Woodenware, brassware, paintings, jewelry, lacquerware, dolls, pottery, bags, wall hangings and ironware were brought from Japan for the exhibit. An expert flower arranger, Miss S. Ogawa, from Tokyo is also present to lecture and demonstrate the art. A few kimono-clad Vancouver B.C. JCCA girls will assist at the exhibition.

Testimonial Banquet, Dance to Honor Friends Of Resettlement Days

The main part of the 10th Anniversary Celebrations for the resettlement of Japanese Canadians in Toronto will be held Friday, Oct. 19, 6:30 p.m., at the House of Fuji Matsu, 17 Elm St. It will be a testimonial banquet honoring all those who extended help to the JCs during the resettlement in Toronto.

Invitations have been sent to the Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, Premier Leslie Frost, Mayor Nathan Phillips, Ambassador Koto Matsudaira, Senator David Croll, Dr. Sidney Smith of U. of T, heads of Toronto and Hamilton Citizenship and Immigration branches, former members of the Cooperative Committee on Japanese Canadians, president and secretary of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, and some of the ministers who aided resettlement.

Banquet tickets (including admission to the dance) may be obtained from T. Kameoka (EM. 8-9934); owing to limited space, tickets should be ordered as early as possible. Everyone is welcome.

The 10th Anniversary dance will follow on the same evening, from 9-12:30 at Columbus hall, Sherbourne and Linden (just below Bloor); admission: $1.00. All Toronto Japanese Canadians are requested to support these projects.

Nakamura in Maclean's

An example of Toronto artist Kazuo Nakamura's work appears in the Oct. 13 issue of Maclean's, as a representative of Canadian art of 1956. Under the heading of "Our Hidden Canadian Art Treasure, the magazine presents 17 Canadian art works in color with an article on the history of the National Gallery at Ottawa.

An Open Letter to M. Sitarr:

Dear Mr. Sitarr:

In the past I have read many of your interesting and opinionated columns in The New Canadian, and have admired your ability to take time out and write on such diverse topics.

However, in your last column of Oct. 3, entitled "Let's Still Buy a House," your usual constructive attitude was lacking and the article was filled with a sarcastic and destructive undertone. The reason for such a [illegible] may have risen out of [illegible] [illegible] or lack of clarity on my part. For this reason, I'd like to briefly and [illegible] sum up my article of Sept. 2[illegible].

The article was not titled "Let's Not Buy a House." It [illegible] [illegible] "Buy or Not to Buy." It was not an inducement to [illegible] all prospective home owners [illegible] [illegible] and tenants. What a [illegible] dreadful thought! The article was written to [illegible] out the common fallacy that home ownership is an economical and investment. It is not, in the true meaning of that word. And since it is not, mortgages and financial factors should never cloud one's mind when one is deciding whether to buy a house or not. The pros and cons of home ownership were given.

And finally the article pointed out one of my main concerns. The house is the servant of its owner. It must cater to the habits, functional needs and emotional desires of the owner. The owner should not need to adjust himself and cater to the house. Man is the focus of all environment so is the owner the hub of the house. The basis of any purchase must be on the needs of the particular family. This analysis of one's needs is of utmost importance if one is to be a proud and content home owner. And when one does find a house to satisfy all his needs, one must face the reality of financial obligation and make no false calculation.

This false calculation, which I fear many prospective owners make, was also made by you. I am sure a writer of your capabilities would not have made such hasty calculations and used them as bases of argument unless greatly pressed by time. If you had delved a little deeper you would have come up with different answers. The fault in your financial argument for ownership lies in two factors:

1. You mention that in 25 years the house owner spends $5,000 for fuel, insurance, taxes, maintenance, etc., etc.—a mere $200 per year. I am sure that any proud home owner can tell you that $200 may start to pay for the taxes. Average tax for the Toronto area is $250 a year. And I am sure that fuel will average $240 a year, hydro another $60. And you haven't started to calculate for insurance, maintenance, payments on various items about which renters do not worry.

With an expenditure of $5,000 per 25 years your investment is a blistered, mildewed "shack," surely not worth $10,000. A good average expenditure is $800 per year—$20,000 for 25 years.

2. Even if we assume that the difference between rental and home expenditure is $40 per month—although I think it is more—the total amount invested at the end of 25 years is $12,000. One does not foolishly invest for straight six per cent interest. The interest is compounded annually or semi-annually, as the case may be, and the total interest is not a measly $720 for 25 years, but you will be surprised to find that the interest alone will amount to $9,000—a total of $21,000 liquid cash at the end of 25 years.

The total expenditure on the house for 25 years is $45,000 for a house worth $10,000 to $12,000. The renter will have $21,000. Which is a wiser financial investment?

Therefore, let's not argue for home ownership on financial terms. The basis is man's needs and desires and the amount of happiness he derives. But it is well to be aware of what financial obligations it involves.

As there is a difference between fortitude and stubbornness, there is a difference between the rashness of a hasty decision and the deliberateness of a rapid but carefully weighed one.

These were my points. There was no interest to wound one's ego or to discourage home ownership. There is no sense in doing that when our whole economy is dependent on it.

Raymond Moriyama

P.S.—I am preparing a series of three articles for prospective home owners—where to buy, what to look for, and how to satisfy one's needs. I hope to get your comments on these.

Thanksgiving...

THERE are people living [illegible] fear. In one small European town, which [illegible] unnamed lest there be repercussions on loved [illegible] generation is growing up who knows only [illegible] of Communism. There old folk who remember what [illegible] go to bed each night, wondering if they will [illegible] the streets. People talk in whispers. [illegible] mysteriously disappeared, betrayed [illegible] by their own sons.

In the [illegible] a woman scurries silently through her own garden, furtively breaking small twigs from her orchard [illegible] planted in happier days. These [illegible] are not her own. They belong to the State. And [illegible] to provide the warmth necessary to [illegible] a lost thing, her mind crazed with fear. [illegible] on the verge of that same dark oblivion [illegible] with hunger and remorse. What strange [illegible] back to the motherland, they shall never know. "For the good of the State" they were stripped of all they owned. And then he had [illegible] and became wedded to a life of fear.

Somewhere, in that small town which must remain unnamed, a young woman faces each day [illegible] cold and chill, and wonders. It had been a hopeless [illegible]. He was a visitor from that free land her people spoke of [illegible] for which crime they had died. She can still hear her own voice crying, "If you won't marry me, I'll kill myself!" His eyes had been full of pity but in the end, he spoke of dire repercussions to a hundred lives like hers.

In that small town a man [illegible] work 12 to 14 hours a day for three long days for two pounds of meat; must work two hard weeks to buy one half-decent shirt to put upon his back. And no one dare say that life is anything else but heaven. "Compare all this, my brethren," they are told, "to those bestial Canadian capitalists!", and are shown posters portraying fat capitalists feeding on the fat of the land, with common folk grovelling, gaunt and under-nourished, waiting for the scraps to fall at their feet. This is the dogma and the credo of fear.

These fearful events are happening right now in certain parts of the world. A Canadian newly-returned from a visit to this small town which must remain unnamed, has seen them happening. He, a visitor, presumably free to go where he desired, has been subjected to indignities which he had not thought possible. He has seen fear written on the faces of those close to him. He has been thrown into prison like a common criminal, and knows too that only the intervention of someone close to the Party could have saved him. And even now, walking down a Canadian street, sometimes his memory will play tricks on him and he hears a woman's desperate cry, "If you won't take me with you, I'll kill myself!"

We can go to bed to sleep fitfully and deeply. We can count on tomorrow being as good or better than today. We need never starve. We can believe whatever we please. And we rarely have to take desperate measures. These are our inalienable rights.

We Canadians live an easy, happy and abundant life. And yet there are those of us who can see nothing to be thankful for.

ISSEI HAVE LAUGHED OFF THEIR AGE

tion time would probably put the Nisei to shame.

Well, we suppose there are plenty of reasons for this renewal of vitality, this burst of latent energy and interest, this sudden broadening of horizons.

As far as we are concerned, there is only one major reason: the granting of American citizenship to these aliens [illegible] denied the right of whole participation in American life.

We remember Lily Okura of Omaha telling us about her dad's intense interest in Lily's right to vote, back before the Issei had that privilege. He accompanied Lily to the polls, [illegible] merits of the candidates [illegible] and [illegible] the issues. Then he [illegible] outside the polls [illegible] insisting that [illegible] reserved to citizens [illegible]. And when she came [illegible] her how and what she had done.

Through all the long years the Issei waited for that final recognition of their value and worth as [illegible]. Wh[illegible] was the greatest gift this country could offer these men and women.

There is no picture today more heartwarming for us than that of an old, proud Issei walking into the polling booth, manipulating the levers and recording his preference in the management of this country. Citizenship comes easy to those of us born here. To our parents, who waited thirty and forty years for that right, citizenship is a precious thing to be cherished, valued and held forever dear.

[illegible] the Issei do not seem the same group who took the near-death blows of evacuation with [illegible] fortitude. Fifteen years [illegible] they have gone into their [illegible] their hopes and ambitions [illegible] full flower in their [illegible] years. The mental and social restraints of the years have fallen off. Sturdy and strong, proud and wise, the Issei [illegible] have embraced their newly-granted citizenship with joy and regard it with a devotion and reverence we all might well emulate.

Japan Coming Up in the Fashion World . . . But Must Lose Ill Repute for Piracy and Imitation

TOKYO.—"The introduction of new fashions in the future will make our life richer and more colorful."

This is the word of Takashi Kono, one of Japan's foremost fashion and graphic designers who believes that the people in Japan are beginning to realize what they are really looking for.

Up until recently it was the Dior and Hepburn craze that swayed this nation, and people only ran after imported fashions.

"But now I think they are beginning to create something new on their own," the noted designer says.

To prove this new trend in life, Kono points out that a plain simple taste, which was once the main characteristic of ancient day Japan, is now back again in various aspects of Japan's daily life.

He cites for example that marvelous array of daily merchandise such as TV, radio sets and various household utilities all rich in color but simple in taste with their unique flowing designs.

Life in Japan is rapidly changing, he says. He predicts that the Japanese life will become richer in both the spiritual and material sense.

According to this expert's opinion, there are two factors that have brought about this remarkable trend.

First, there was no tradition in Japan, of Western-style living modes and this made it easier for Japan to absorb and create new fashions in life.

Second, the simplicity that was once the trademark of ancient Japan was reimported from the United States in the forms of graceful, streamlined commercial or industrial designs.

Kono points out that it may have been lucky for Japan that she lacked the traditions of Western-style living modes. In Europe, where the old tradition still prevails, Italy is the only nation well-advanced in the field of artistic design, Kono points out.

This is probably because Italy is a newly risen republic, the noted designer says.

Only recently a certain sales manager of a department store in Italy came to Japan and offered to exchange representative goods between the two countries. As a result, a group of architects and designers will be exchanged in the near future.

The adaption of Oriental taste and flavor in their living modes is especially notable in the United States since the war's end. The trend is manifest not only in house gardens, furniture and interior decorations, but also in myriads of things from buildings and cars to small accessories, all rich in color but plain in taste.

Kono explains that the move is further enhanced in the United States where committees are organized to push plans for promoting good designs. The committees check and screen merchandise before distributing to shops and department stores.

A similar method is now adopted in Japan and "good design exhibitions" are held at various department stores, although the merchandises are not mass-produced and, therefore, the prices are considerably high.

"But how to tell good from bad designs? Is there any rule or criterion to judge the quality of designs?

This, of course, is not for non-artistic amateurs to answer.

There is another problem. Japan must get rid of her ill repute for piracy and imitation of foreign designs.

When a British textile mission visited Japan in 1954, they strongly complained of Japan's piracy of British textile designs. Ever since, the need to create "good designs" on their own has been keenly felt among Japanese textile manufacturers.

And it is precisely for this reason Kono, who was formerly a graphic editorial designer, formed last year a small society called "Deska Club" comprising young artists and designers. Their main job is to create and publicize modern print designs, which is the first attempt in Japan.

Leader Kono says he will gradually expand the work of the club to the designing of furniture and interior decorations in the future.

He feels there definitely are specific lines, colors and shapes considered to be fit for the feeling of the Japanese. Among colors, there are indigo and violet, gold, silver, white, and vermilion, the designer points out.

"But people always love something fantastic, and their taste seems to be getting more and more daring," Kono says, adding "some day I believe there will be an entire change in our fashion world."

一刀齋とアンナ

（二八）五味康祐

試合の模様を日々スポーツ紙はこう報じている。

「試合は思わぬ結果を招いた。主審の「始め」によって二人はパッと身構えた。アンナの優美なフォームにいささか一刀齋は剣術者らしく片手青眼だ。しかも真面表籠手で着物に袴、まるでだった。最初の一本はあまりにも早く決まった。双方の剣先と剣先がわずかに近寄ったと見る間に飛燕のようなアンナの一撃が彼の胸に届いていた。一刀齋にもサポスト（切り返し）この所作があったかに見えたが、ない、一本。二本目も同じ経過をたどった。三本目もそうだった。アンナは息もつかない胸に呼吸の起伏を見せるだけ。一刀齋はスツマほどのっそり立ち、動き、形相ざかりが険しかった。四本目、見物の中には、これこそ一刀齋の鮮やかな秘技が見られるかと身を乗りだした者が何人あったろう。彼の神技をえびさはどんなに待ちのぞみ、信じていたろう。だがその最後の四本目もサポストの間（かげ）が見えただけで、鮮かな[illegible]アンナの剣の一閃に着物の胸がはだけるほど彼は突かれてしまった。[illegible]一刀齋は[illegible]惜した者は一人もない。試合を忘れたアンナを萬雷の拍手喝采は迎えた。カルメンナイが駈けつけて来たのはこのときだったろうか。駈けつけたといえば後楽園へ巨人軍から使いが来て彼を待ちかねていたようだ。彼は関係者にクン寧に一禮すると出て行った。

われわれは間違っていた。誇らかなはずの、マスクを取ったアンナは真青なのだ。驚いたカルバンティが駈け寄った時、アンナの手から四隅を切られたマスクの金網が落ちた」

一刀齋はその頃には後楽園球場へ駈けつけている。七回裏である。巨人は二対〇でリードされていたが、水原監督の憂色は去った。一刀齋がこの日出場するのを全観衆は知っており、その英姿を待ちかねている時だ。八回裏。二走者が塁上に出た。川上にかわり背中をただかれ、背番号六を見せたこの不世出の大打者は満場歓呼のうちに打席へ入って、八双の構えで静かに投手の第一球を待った。

フレザー鮭漁船多すぎる

この侭では共倒れになると將來が憂慮される

フレザー河のサモン漁業はあまりにも大きく有能的となりすぎ、このままでは來年になればサモン漁は『經濟的にも生物學的にも馬鹿々々しいものになろう』と重大警告がサモン漁專門家により晩市で先週行われた。すなわち國際太平洋サケ漁業委員會主事ロイドエー・ロイヤル氏は漁業關係各代表者に對し、フレザー河のサカイを漁獲するに必要なボートはその四倍も多すぎ、しかもナイロンネットを使用し、馬力の強いエンジンと機械化された漁具を使驅するのだから、サモン漁獲は昔日とちがつてひどく容易になつて來ていることを指摘、このままだとフレザー河のサモンに重大影響をもたらし、今に就漁は經濟的に採算のとれない結果を招くことになろうと警告すると共に、その對處策として就漁タイムを一週二日間に短縮するとしても、魚族保護には手ぬるいかも知れないとなし、結局は漁船數を極度に制限し、新ライセンスの發給を停止することが考慮されなければならないとしている。漁者組合側ではライセンス制限をここ二、三年より主張しているがフレザー河のサカイ漁の將來は日系漁者の生活に直接ひびく問題として極めて重視されている。

青森の女學生たちがカナダへ振袖人形贈る

進保黨大會

△ドリウ氏が進歩保守黨々主になつてから二回の總選擧とも議席をふやすことに成功せず、そのたびにドリウ氏の退陣を迫る聲が黨内にあげられたが、ほかに後釜の人物もないまま、ずっと今日に及んだが、ドリウ氏も遂に病氣で辭任することになつた。

△進保黨首腦部では十二月十日、オタワで黨主指名大會を催すことに決定、來年六月の總選擧には新黨主の下に、全國黨組織のすみずみまで新しい息吹きをいれて大いに進出しようという野望である。

△大會の第一候補地だつたウイニペッグにはシーピーレーのフランス語放送網がないというのも不適とされ、オタワとなつたことは、この黨主指名大會に相當タイムのテレヴイ放送とラジオ放送が費されることが、たやすく想像されるのである。そして、おそまきながら規模は小さくても米國の大統領候補指名大會のようなおやんややん騒ぎをマネようというのである。進保黨全國大會のテレヴイ放送のスケールとテクニックは、來年、總選擧をひかえる政府與黨やレーシドエス黨から異常な關心を持つて見守り、そのインパクトを吟味することになろう。

△ドリウ氏の投討的辭任で、いまや群雄割據の進保黨だが、それだけに黨主に誰がなるかは豫測を許さないものがある。

息子四人ともカナダ軍人に

一九四六年六月、本社の東京支局長露木海藏氏らと共に、一家八人あげて引揚船で歸國したカナダの歸還兵小林亮一氏は先週末、十年ぶりで故郷廣島から歸加。來訪した同氏は「若い者にはまだまだ負けない氣持ちでハリ切って歸って來ましたよ」と、元氣のよい顔をほころばせたが、思えば苦しい十年の日本の生活だった。その間長男の龍君(二九)がまず呉市に駐在しているカナダ陸軍に志願入隊、次いで二男の博君(二八)、三男の豊君(二六)、そして四男の勇君(二二)と、兄弟四人ともが父亮一氏の希望にそってカナダ軍人となり父子ともどもミリタリー・サービスを持つにいたった。四男の勇君が除隊したほかは、兄三人とも今なおカナダ各地で軍務に服している。が、この四人がはかり、日本の父をまず呼寄せたのち殘っている母と弟、妹(二人は病死した)も近くトロントに迎えることになっているという、珍しい軍人國ファミリーである。

鳩山訪ソと河野全權反對

＝反主流派議員八十名が決議して氣勢あぐ＝

【東京發】鳩山訪ソは閣議で正式決定され、日ソ交渉の全權、顧問、隨員も決定發表されたが、三日自民黨の兩院議員總會で岸幹事長が鳩山訪ソにつき報告說明を行い、閣議がこれを承認したことの了解を求めたところ、反主流派の八十議員が鳩山首相の訪ソに强い反對を表明し、會議は大混亂に陷いり、岸幹事長をどっと取りまいて「首相の訪ソを中止せよ」と迫ったので、岸幹事長は止むなく說明も終らず、ほう〱の態で會議室をのがれた。そのあと反主流派議員からなる時局懇談會は直ちに會議を持ち、「鳩山首相の訪ソ反對、河野農相の全權任命に不信任」の決議を滿場一致で可決した。かくして全權團の訪ソは黨内調整のつかないまま六日出發の豫定であり、今後の成行きが注目されるにいたっている。

松本全權で充分 外交長老の意見

【東京時事通信】吉田茂、芦田均、元駐ソ大使田中都吉、元外相芳澤謙吉ら外交界の長老十二氏は先週末東京で會合、日ソ交渉につき意見を交換したが、會合の空氣は鳩山首相の訪ソは不必要で、松本全權だけで十分だとの意見が强かった。しかし一方、鳩山訪ソは阻止できないとの見方が多かったようである。

全權團人員決定

日本政府は閣議で日ソ交渉の全權、顧問、隨員を次のように決定した。

△全權＝鳩山一郎 河野一郎

△顧問＝松本瀧藏

△隨員＝（法制局次長）高辻正己（首相秘書官）若宮小太郎（農相秘書官）砂田重民（農林省秘書課長）齋藤誠（外務省歐米局調査官）野口芳雄（同歐米局第六課事務官）川北亮（同大臣官房電信課員）石村昇一（同條約局第一課）勝又藏江（同大臣官房文書課）小澤鈴子（同會計課）大岡純雄（在佛大使官）東一郎

ハウ大臣が渡日

二週間にわたり各産業視察

【オタワ發】日本政府の招待によりハウ通産相は二週間の豫定で日本各地の産業視察を行うことになり、來る二十一日空路出發の豫定であると松平大使が今週發表した。ハウ通産相はミチェル・シャープ次官を同伴、日本の織物、アルミニューム鐵およびスチール工場のほかキャメラ製造所などを視察する一方、カナダ産の小麥、鐵鑛等をもっと輸入して貰うよう交渉することになろう。當年七十才のハウ通産相が日本を訪問するのは今回が最初であるが、松平大使は「ハウ大臣の訪日によって日本の經濟と日本の當面せる問題をより深くカナダに了解して貰えることになろう」と語っている。

英佛兩語サイン 憲法違反と文句

【オタワ發】首都オタワ市内のストリート・サインが英佛兩語で書かれているのは憲法違反であり、オタワ市内の市街名は英語だけにすべきであるとの抗議がオタワのカナダ婦人新教徒連盟支部から出てきている。カナダで佛語が公用語として使用されるのはケベック州だけと憲法上になっているというのであり、何もケ州外にそれを廣める必要はなかろうと苦情をいっている。

領土主張讓らず

【東京時事通信】鳩山首相は今週の閣議後、要旨次のような談話を發表した。

私がモスクワに赴く決意をしたのは、自らの公約はあくまで自らの責任において結末をつけることが、民主政治家としての正しい態度であると信ずるからである。もちろんわが國固有の領土に對してはその主張をあくまで讓るものではない。私は領土に對する國民の希望と、わが黨の方針を具現するため、あらん限りの力をふりしぼるつもりである。

日本から「もみじ」カナダに贈る

既報の如く、先月下旬訪日したオ州園藝協會の日本觀光團クラーク團長ら一行が日本國民に贈った「シュガー・メープル」の植樹式がこのほど日比谷公園大音樂堂前で行われた。この朝秋雨がしと〱降り、植樹にはあつらえ向きのお天氣。クラーク團長にデービス・カナダ大使、日本國民への仲介の勞をとって佐藤東京都副知事らも參加し、和やかなうちに植樹を終った。日本からはお禮に「モミヂ」の苗一本が一行に贈られた。

脫獄常習犯捕る

ト市に隱した大金も使わずに

△トロント市内の銀行をホールドアップして現金合計九万四千弗を奪い、そのうちの五万弗ないし六万弗をこっそり隱しているのを使いたいばかりに、捕えられて入獄十五年をうけキングストン監獄で服役中だったロバート・ウッド（二七）は數日前、同監獄で行われた運動會のさい、トラックの下ッ腹にぶら下って脫出、オ州内は全警報下におかれたが、行方はさっぱりわからなかった。

ト市警官二名は今週市内ダファリン街の某アパートに住んでいる者が偽チェックを發行、それを取調べに來たとき、そこにウッドがおり顏を見られないよう醉っ拂った態度で頭を下げて身体を左右にゆすぶっているのを臭いとニラまれ本署に連行されたが、ウッドでないと主張しつづけるので指紋をとったところ、遂に身分が明かになった。

△ウッドの言うところによると、監獄から十四回も脫出未遂に終ったが、出ようとすると大金が必要だと暗に獄吏を買收したことを認めている。ウッドは新調の洋服に現金七十弗を所持していた。隱した現金をもっと使えなかったのは殘念だといっている。

若人よ來れと

失業保險委員會ト市就職サービスでは「北部オンタリオ州は働人を招く」と題する次の一文の掲載方を要請して來た。

△オンタリオ北地は就職口が有り餘るほどである。カナダの人口增加と貿易伸暢は更に鑛物、パルプウッド及びランバーを必要とするのである。この需要に應ずるには大きい資源の開發にまたねばならず、それは人力增加によらねばならない。

△ノース・ベーから西はスー・セント・マリー、北はカプスケーシングに至るオ州北地の鑛山、山森にいま數百名の人力を要するのである。これらの北地の町々はここ數年間に生れた新しい町で、ト市にみられるような施設と娛樂があり、若人はその町の友好的フンイキにしたることが出來るのである。

安値の日本品大進出で

【ドイツ・コロン發】ドイツ・米國通商振興協會は、ドイツ品のカナダ輸出は安價な日本品のためぐんと減少しつつあり、日本品に警戒すべきだとドイツ輸出業者に注意している。ドイツは一九五四年度の全カナダ玩具輸入總量の二五パーセントを占めていたのが、昨年は一八パーセントに減少、日本品は二六パーセントから一躍五二パーセントに激增した。値段も日本物はドイツ品より三割ないし五割安オモチャばかりでなく日本キャメラ、光學品などもドイツをしのぎぐんぐんカナダ市場に喰い入っている。なにしろ日本物はドイツ製より三割安く、しかも性能優秀で体裁がよいから競爭しにくい。まだ日本製ツーイング・ミシンもカナダ市場を獨占しつつあるが、これまたドイツ製品の三分の一の値段だといっている。

the M-space

by marge

Since the dates and doings items have made a habit of dropping down to the bottom of this space, we decided to drop the heading down along with the rest of it, and consequently had to come up with another title. It's taken from the printer's term "em", which is a type space about this long ( ) and in this case is spelled without the "e" because of the initial letter of my appellation. Otherwise the heading is insignificant, as is the space.

Last week I read Home Again by James Edmiston, published last year, and scheduled to be made into a film next year.

Just in case you haven't read it yet, the story is about the evacuation of our American counterpart and their trials and tribulations.

Mr. Edmiston puts the history down in fiction form, taking one particular family to tell the story for all, pointing out in the foreword that this in no way alters the authenticity of the material.

It begins with the Issei immigrants, Toshimichimaru Mio and his younger (by one year) brother Hirokichimaru, who have come to America to get rich quick before returning to a comfortable life in Japan. But with the raising of a family, they get tied down to the new land.

With the one family, most of the varying sentiments during the evacuation are covered—Midori, an American girl who fights against being shoved back into a Japanese shell, her brother Kazuo, who rebels against democracy with its bigotry, her mother Tani, who knows only fear of the great expanse of America and the breaking up of her family, and her uncle Hiroki, with his unshakeable faith in democracy.

Revolving around Midori, daughter of Toshimichimaru, or Pops, the writer weaves out the familiar story of the acceptance of the Japanese race until the sudden turn of fortune with Pearl Harbor, the exile into the interior, the return to the coast after the surrender where most of the violent trouble begins, and finally, the victory of the minority.

They tell me that the Canadians didn't have it half as bad as the Americans. Being but a carefree youngster during the war years, I look back on the ghost-towns as something similar to summer resorts, particularly since, because of the housing shortage in Kaslo, we did stay at a summer resort camp for a season. But the fears and uncertainty of the Issei were probably the same all the way down the coast.

After being freed from their barbed-wire camps, The Mio family returns to California where hate mobs, the Night Riders and Dust Bowlers, run rampant, burning down Japanese homes, using guns and knives as well as hatred against the returnees. The book tells of the unrelenting effort of the War Relocation Authority (comparable to our Department of Labor Placement Officers) in re-establishing the Japanese Americans in California. Throughout the story, it is pointed out that "it was always the little, the small men who hurled the insults born of race hatred and bigotry, just as it was the small men who had risen to power through persecution."

The Japanese way of thinking is related with a liberal distribution of humor. . . . The book is very entertaining in its treatment of the differing personalities, as well as informative on the history of the Japanese in America, which is readily applicable to Canadian Japanese.

Tonight is the Aiko Saita Memorial Concert, inaugurated last year by the Kisaragi club in memory of the late contralto born in Cumberland, B.C. Guest artist is violinist Kenji Kobayashi, who has been studying in New York on scholarships, and who is at time of writing, chatting with the Japanese section personnel in this very office. Translations made it clear that he may return to Japan in a year or so, but really has no definite plans, except that he will be returning to New York on Monday. Helen Tokiwa of Toronto will be the accompanist, and Kay Fujino of Hamilton will render a piano solo. That's tonight at the Buddhist Church, 8 p.m.

Tomorrow night, Opening Nite of the '56-57 season of the Rec Socratic club at Hagerman's hall. Prizes, novelty dances, and fun up to 11:30 (starting from 8) and remember the next day is a holiday for most of you. Free for last season's members, half a buck for otherwise. Only 200 members (is that all?) will be accepted for the next season, so if you want to join, join early. Starts at 8.

Also tomorrow night, for all you cats, the Kisaragi club holds their welcome banquet for Montreal's Club Bal de Mai at 123 St. Patrick, 6 p.m.

Veteran Back in Canada

Ryoichi Kobayashi returned to Canada last week after ten years in Japan. In June, 1946, with his family of eight, Kobayashi went to Japan from Tashme, B.C.

In Hiroshima, four of his five sons joined the Canadian army at Hiro; three of them are still in army duty, stationed across Canada. They decided to call their father back to Canada, and have made arrangements to send for the rest of the family. Two of the three sisters had died.

Kobayashi, a veteran of the Canadian army, World War I, is now living in Toronto with his son.

★ Sports Review

By EDDIE HISAKI

Diminutive Amy Tani is a comely Nisei lass who is now in her second year of organized softball. This statement is not likely to panic the placid and inhibited burghers of this sportsminded community. And it is not so intended. Only to point out to the uninformed the little time Amy has taken to establish herself as the top Nisciette in the game today.

The BP's are a finically scrupulous group. In their meticulously cared-for statistic-filled scorebook are the details of every inning of their 33 played contests. With monotonous regularity, Amy's name fills the leadoff spot of each page. In that time, her fielding record around the keystone sack borders on the sensational. Only a single miscue, and that in the opening game of the season, mars an otherwise perfect slate. Belieing the Nihonjin adopted baseball axiom of good field-no hit is Amy's .369 batting average. Also impressive is her 4-1 mound record, which has accounted for all Burke-Pastor wins in post season series play. Consider that she did very little hurling before the playoffs, and her feat becomes gargantuan. Her educated right arm clinched victory, at a time when hopes for an East Toronto championship seemed remotely precarious.

AMY TANI

DEPLETING PITCHING STAFF

There is a note of irony in the BPs' lack of pitching depth, in this, their championship year. In previous years, they have always had two or three front liners. For the better part of this past term, the BPs through injuries struggled through with one pitcher. The shortage of hurlers this year will undoubtedly necessitate a refresher course in the art of bullpen techniques for the Burke-Pastor coaches before the arrival of another spring.

Shirley Grimmer (7-3), a converted pitcher who copped the pitching award, was very effective prior to her injury. Tho inclined to wild streaks, Shirley's pitching prowess was a vital factor in Burke-Pastor's pennant run. Thirteen-year-old Marianne Johnston, compiling a 5-1 record for the year, was also injured during the stretch drive and lost to the team for the season. Her potentials are unlimited and she is a certainty to become the next top pitcher in the East End circuit.

GOOD FIELD-GOOD HIT

What they lacked on the mound, the Niseis compensated with the best fielding and hitting club in their four-year history. The infield of Barb Brough, Amy Tani, Margaret Naylor, Arlene Harada and Carole Coghill were without peers in the junior circuit. All except Carole are eligible for further junior play.

The outfield combined youth with experience. Captain Betty Fenton, an inspiring leader, Bev Fournier, and Vera Fenwick provided the backbone for sophomores Kiyo Nakamoto, Janet Fujiwara and Sandra Clarke. Under coach Roy Kubayashi's expert tutelage, the fielders performed a steady and at times spectacular heads-up type of ball.

Another first for the Niseis was achieved by backstop Carole Coghill, whose .410 average won her the East Toronto batting title. Slick fielding Marg Naylor, a 16-year-old, and a veteran of five years in the Junior League, hit her personal high of .379. Amy Tani (.369), Kiyo Nakamoto (.345), Betty Fenton (.331) and Shirley Grimmer (.293) were also consistent hitters.

ODDS AND ENDS

It's a baby boy (Brian Allen Patrick) for Mr. and Mrs. Ron Pearce. Liz, who manages the BP's, also has a little girl. . . . The BP's will be feted at a banquet later this month, at which time they'll receive various trophies, crests, photos and their long-awaited jackets. . . . Speaking of pictures, Jack Hemmy and Nobby Wakayama collaborated to take the teams snaps. . . . Our choice in the World Series? . . . Dodgers in six (we hope). . . . Suggestion: As an added attraction for next year's JCCA International Tourney, an exhibition match between the BP Juniors and a team comprised of former East Toronto Srs. . . . Chie Inamoto, Mary Ebata et al?

What Next? Japanese Editor Suggests Tax On Golf

And here we've been thinking Finance Minister Harris knew just about every taxable item in the book! He hasn't noticed golf. Let's hope he never does.

A Japanese newspaper editor has suggested a heavy tax on golf games because they are "a medium for corruption." Many scandals "involving government officials "have been hatched on golf courses."

That editor is probably a disgruntled man shooting somewhere above a hundred. That's liable to corrupt any golfer. Especially if he sits down mourning at the nineteenth hole and figures out the tax he already pays on golf balls, clubs and watered tipple.

Many wives might agree with the Japanese editor that golf should be taxed. Don't they call it a "widow-maker"? Lots of wives, blissfully under the impression they were happily married, have suddenly found their husbands are wedded to three other guys and a bag of clubs.

Wives must not argue out of vexation. This should not pose a question of taxation, but simply: "Do golfers make intelligent husbands?" And this we do not propose to try to answer. We only know that many men when they get married cease to be intelligent golfers.

We advise the Japanese to catch up with Western civilization as represented by golf. Golf (when a man is on his game, of course) is a refining influence. It teaches concentration, patience, good humor, the knowledge that in this imperfect world one thing is perfect—one's golfing ability.

When a man is off his game it enlarges the vocabulary and teaches what some call the New Arithmetic . . .

Perhaps golf should be subsidized.
